

Self-disclosure

for volunteers and full-time employees of the Berlin City Mission Association

(Pages 1 and 2 will be retained by the Berlin City Mission)

I have not been convicted of any criminal offence within the meaning of Section 72a of the German Social Code Book VIII (SGB VIII) (Exclusion from work of persons with a relevant criminal record, see Table 1).

The statutory limitation periods for the inclusion of criminal offences in extended certificates of good conduct apply in accordance with Section 53 of the Federal Central Criminal Register Act (BZRG).

Disclosure of convictions

For the duration of my professional activity and/or my voluntary work, I undertake to inform the management at the deployment location (for volunteers) or the HR department (for full-time employees) immediately if I am convicted of any criminal offence under the laws listed in Table 1 (see page 2).

Breach

If I breach this declaration, I may be subject to action under employment law or exclusion from voluntary work for the Berlin City Mission.

Data protection information on self-disclosure

(Pages 3 and 4 are returned to the person providing their signature)

As the controller for processing your personal data within the meaning of Section 4 No. 9 of the Church Act on Data Protection in the Protestant Church in Germany (DSG EKD), we hereby provide you with information on the collection of your personal data.

Information according to Section 17 DSG EKD

Name and contact details of the controller	The controller for processing of personal data is the Verein für Berliner Stadtmission (Berlin City Mission Association) Lehrter Str.68 10557 Berlin, Germany Tel.: 030-69033-3 Email: info@berliner-stadtmission.de
Contact details of the local data protection officer	You can contact our local data protection officer at Data Protection Officer Verein für Berliner Stadtmission (Berlin City Mission Association) Lehrter Str. 68 10557 Berlin, Germany Tel.: 030 69033-424 Email: datenschutz@berliner-stadtmission.de
Purposes for which personal data is processed and legal basis of the processing	The personal data is processed to protect vulnerable persons from sexual violence. The legal bases are Section 6 No. 6 DSG-EKD and Section 13(2) No. 7 DSG-EKD in conjunction with the EKBO Church Act on Protection against Sexual Violence
Recipients or categories of recipients of the personal data	The recipient of the personal data for full-time employees is the HR department. In the case of volunteers, the recipient of the personal data is the management of the organisation responsible. If there are relevant convictions, the Commissioner for the Protection of Human Dignity is consulted for advice.
Period for which the personal data is stored or – if this is not available – criteria used to determine that period	Personal data will be erased as soon as it is no longer required for the purpose for which it was collected and insofar as erasure does not conflict with any retention obligations to which we are legally bound. The personal data will be erased 6 months after the end of the last activity.
Rights of data subjects	You can request information about whether we process your personal data. If this is the case, you have a right to information, a copy of the personal data in question and further information related to the processing (Section 19 DSG-EKD). Please note that this right to information may be restricted or excluded in certain cases (Section 19(3), (7) DSGVO-EKD). In the event that personal data about you is not (or no longer) accurate or is incomplete, you can request that this data be corrected and, if necessary, completed (Section 20 DSGVO-EKD). If the legal requirements are met, you can request the erasure or restriction of processing, exercise your right to data portability and object to processing (Sections 21, 22, 24, 25, 25a DSGVO-EKD). Please contact us if you would like to assert any of your rights as a data subject.

Right to lodge a complaint	Any data subject may lodge a complaint with the competent supervisory authority in accordance with Section 46(1) DSGVO EKD, without prejudice to other legal remedies, if they believe that their rights have been violated in the collection, processing or use of their personal data by church bodies. Pursuant to Section 46(3) DSGVO EKD, no one may be reprimanded or penalised for disclosing facts that are likely to give rise to the suspicion that the Church Data Protection Act or another legal provision on data protection has been violated. Employees of church organisations do not have to follow the official channels for notifications to the data protection officers. The responsible supervisory authority can be contacted at: The Commissioner for Data Protection of the Protestant Church in Germany Berlin Branch Invalidenstrasse 29 10115 Berlin, Germany Tel. 030 2005157-0 Fax 030 2005157-20 Email: ost@datenschutz.ekd.de
Necessity of the provision of personal data and possible consequences of non-provision	The personal data is necessary for full-time employees in the areas of the mission, the Diakonie and education. It is generally also collected for voluntary employees. If this data is not provided, it is not possible to work full-time in the areas specified above. It is generally not possible to work in a voluntary capacity either.
